Tour Highlights

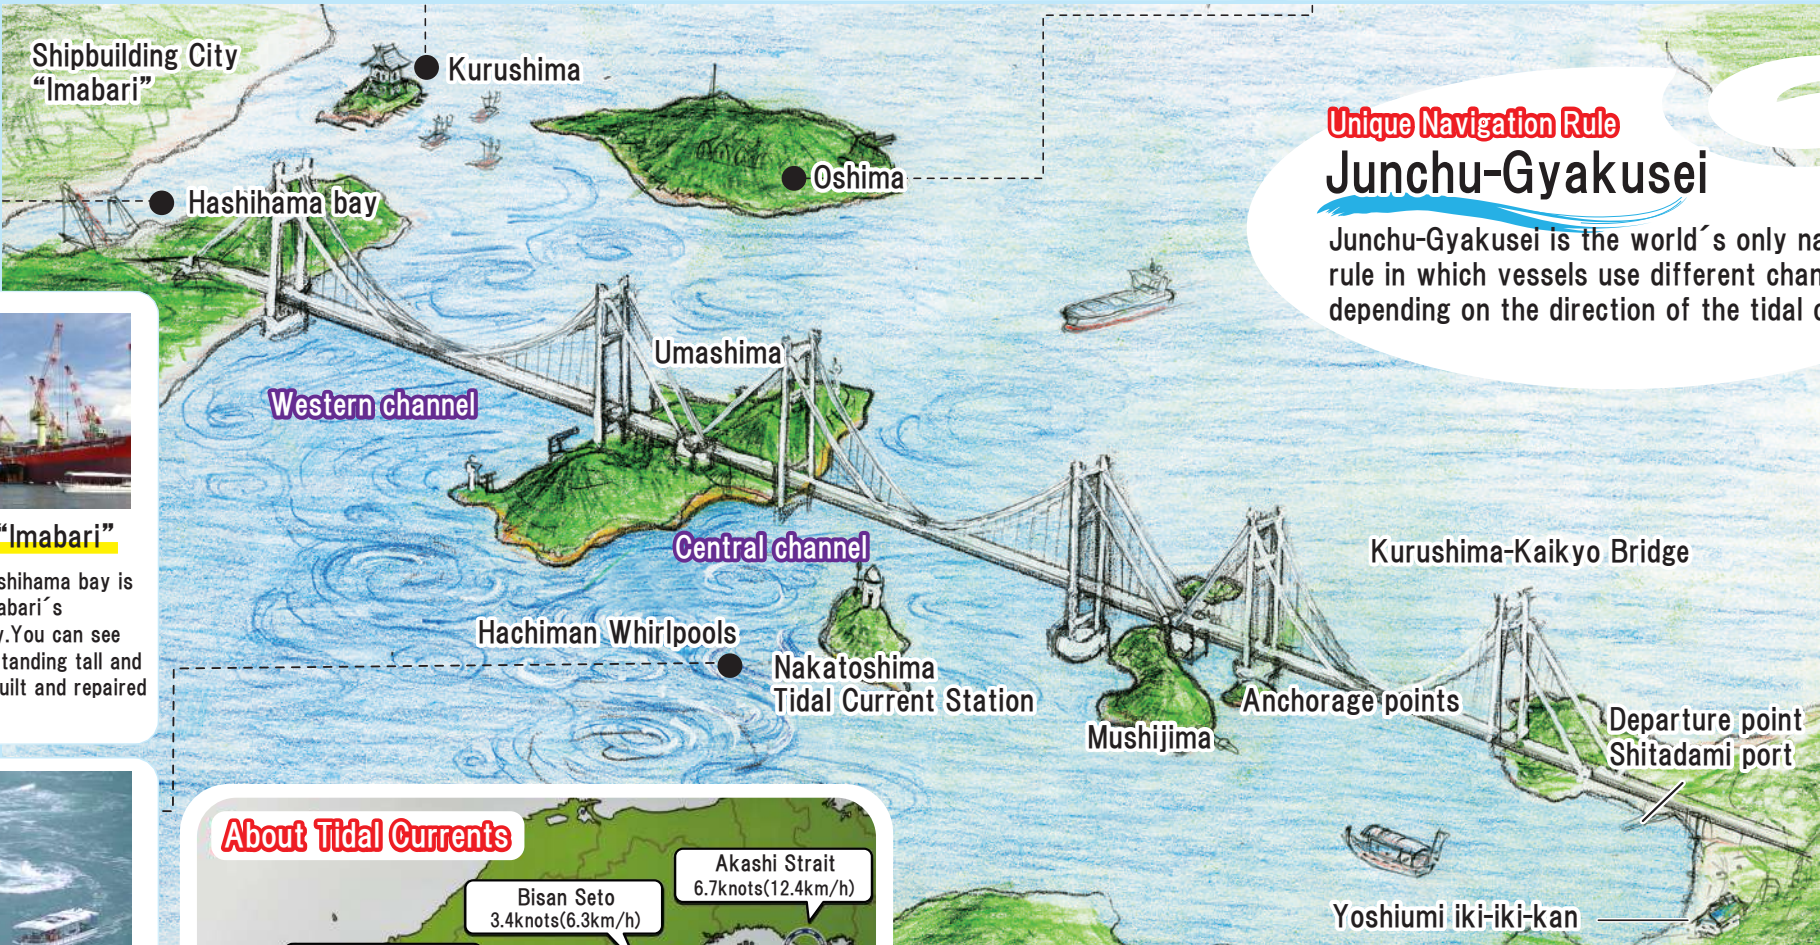

The ruins of the Murakami Kaizoku stronghold on kurushima island

Kurushima is a small island with a circumference of about 850 meters. It is believed to have been the base of the Murakami Kaizoku.

Geiyo Fortress "Oshima"

Just before the Russo-Japanese War, a coastal fortress was built here to prevent the Russian Navy from invading the seto island sea. Built in the Meiji era, it remains almost completely preserved in closed to its original condition and is considered the only one of its kind in Japan.

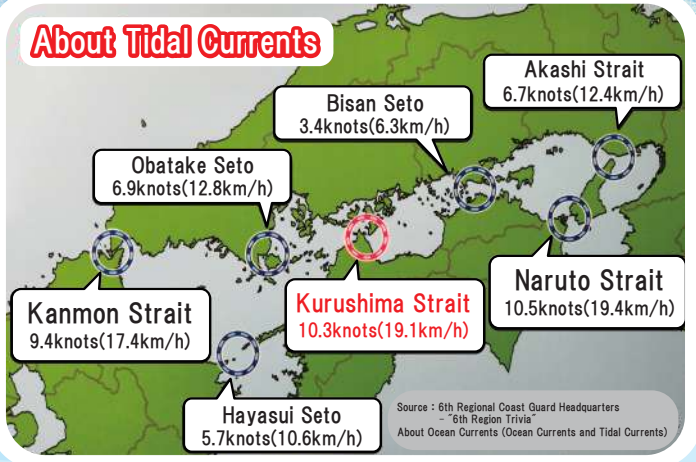

maritime city "Imabari"

This area, called Hashihama bay is the birthplace of Imabari's shipbuilding industry. You can see cranes of all sizes standing tall and watch ships being built and repaired up close.

About the Kurushima Strait

The tidal current in the Kurushima Strait can reach speeds of up to 10 knots, during spring tides, the largest whirlpool in the area, known as "Hachiman-Uzu" can be seen, reaching over 10 meters in diameter.

Unique Navigation Rule Junchu-Gyakusei

Junchu-Gyakusei is the world's only navigation rule in which vessels use different channels depending on the direction of the tidal current.
